THE CURLING CLUB'S SUCCESSFUL BANQUET

Congratulations of the highest order are due President E. N. Ridley and his committee, also the ladies of the Ladies' Curling Club, for the very successful arrangements of all the details that go to make a delightful evening of the musical program, the choice of speakers, delicious refreshments served on prettily decorated tables, here the colours of the club, red, white and blue, were much in evidence, with the "straw" and brooms occupying places of prominence on the long tables.

Seated at the head table were President Ridley, Secretary Quinn, Mr. McLaws, an enthusiastic curler from Bassano, and Mrs. Shrimpton.

After the physical man had been thoroughly satisfied by all the variety of good things to eat, Mr. Ridley, in his chairman's address, stated that he thought the past year had been probably the most successful since the organization, and bespoke the true co-operation of all intended to carry this spirit to make this next an even better year than the preceding. He spoke of the difficulties in obtaining good food, and explained to the assembly that he had invited Mr. McLaws to give an address, and assured his audience they had a treat in store.

Mr. Ridley then asked each of the past Presidents for a brief address: first calling on Mr. T. E. Wright to lead the audience in singing the old favorite "Aloha". This proved, as always, a very popular number.

Community singing of old favorites, which always creates a general spirit of harmony, was heartily enjoyed by all.

Mr. Baird, a recent arrival in Strathmore district, accompanied on the piano very capably. He will be welcomed to Strathmore musical circles.

Mr. Stockton, a former president, was asked to speak. Mr. Stockton congratulated the present president on the success the club has attained and also on the success of the evening's banquet, in which he included the ladies.

Mr. Poole, of Chancellor, a former resident of Strathmore and also a former president of the Curling Club, was very cordially welcomed, and also asked to address the assembly. His congratulations on the success obtained by the Club, as evidenced by the present enthusiastic gathering, attracted the sport, thus which there is no more better than that obtained in curling on good ice.

Mayor Shrimpton also followed by very humorous telling of his early experience in Strathmore, when being asked to lead.

New members being welcomed to the Club, and also asked to speak, were Rev. J. N. Wilkinson, Rev. T. B. Wilson, and Mr. Neil Macdonald. Each in witty and witty phrases, gave some of their "experiences" of curling, and the joy they anticipated in store this winter on the ice, thus which there is no more better than that obtained in curling on good ice.

All of these speeches were then interspersed by solos or community songs.

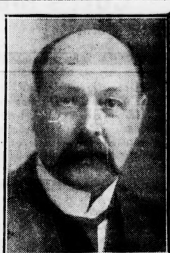

Miss Fok, accompanied by Miss Watson, gave a song in her usual very appreciative manner, and was completely given an encore.

Mr. Patrick sang "Medals On My Chest," an exceedingly humorous song. The crowd proved a very popular number, and the audience insisted on an encore.

Mr. Lyndal, a classmate, sang some of the exceptionally well known "One Quiet Night." As an encore he gave "The End of a Perfect Day." A beautiful old song, it is a real treat which no well given.

The main address of the evening was given by Mr. McLaws, of Chancellor, in his high school days in Calgary as Scotty McLaws.

That Mr. McLaws was mayor of his

ARDENODE U.F.W.

The meeting of the U.F.W. was held at the home of Mr. Horcock on November 18th.

The usual business and letters, etc., were disposed of with.

The Services District Association convention, which was to have been held at Ardenode about November 18th, was postponed indefinitely, as this local was to entertain this night.

The ladies, at this meeting, discussed the luncheon problem, making arrangements to have it given equally if short notice should be divided.

It was decided to ask the School Board to take it over, as it was done so well last year.

The Xmas tree was also discussed, and it was decided to ask the School Board to take it over, as it was done so well last year.

The home of Mrs. Jensen, December 7th, when Mrs. Rosted will have charge of the program.

The meeting was then adjourned, and a delicious luncheon was served, after which several vocal and piano solos were rendered by Mrs. Rosted.

The subject, there was no doubt, the present his remark by saying that Mr. Ridley had asked him to come and give some advice as to how to make "good ice". He being a lawyer, and also Scotch, was not in the habit of giving advice free. However, he would make an exception of this case.

He explained at length the tricks and obstacles in the making of good ice, and other conditions of success, all in the matter of picking your address.

No being "acquainted with" the game, we will try to reproduce, suffice it to say, his remarks were simply "drank him" by all critics present, and a very hearty vote of thanks was tendered Mr. McLaws for his best address.

At the conclusion of the address, the chairman called on Mr. T. Gately, who, in a very humorous manner, read E. J. C. Stock's poem "The Ride of the King of the Town."

The poem read a warm response to the hearts of the audience.

After another community song, the tables were cleared and removed, and the banquet was continued for the remainder of the evening.

There was a large number present. Mr. Frank Sharpe accompanied the community singing with the saxophone in his usual masterly style, much to the enjoyment of all present.

The ladies who planned and served the banquet were Madeline Layfield, Perry, J. French, Whitelake, Ridley, Hyde, Hirtle and Boyer.

MISS SIEGEL'S SPLENDID RECITAL

The United Church was well filled Friday evening last, when the audience gathered to hear Calgary's clever dramatic reader, Miss Theresa Siegel, in Wanchell Smith's comedy, "A Fun Time Hunter."

With the comedy there is a great deal of pathos interspersed. Miss Siegel has the power to hold her audience completely absorbed from the opening sentence.

In that play there were some ten or twelve important characters, and so vividly did she portray them, both by voice and manner, that one could quite easily see the various personages as they came in turn across the imaginary stage.

The chief character, Nat Duncan, a young man completely "down and out" when his friend Kellogg suggests a method by which he can regain his lost place in the world. That he only complies with a part of the condition is all to his credit, and given a chance he gives proof that the confidence which his friend shows towards him is not misplaced.

There is the pathetic case of the man engaged in business, who is not at heart a business man, and the struggle he wages.

The usual village gossip this time, fortunately portrayed as two main characters. This picture was most realistic.

The vain and idle daughter of the rich, whose brain was not overburdened with anything or any person outside her own selfish whims. And to point the contrast, the more favorably endowed Betty, who developed into such a noble and attractive young woman.

The other characters rounded out the play, in which the moral is again sustained, that a false or wrong motive, hidden behind, haggard, and the opposite usually win in the end.

The applause which Miss Siegel received at the conclusion of the recital, was proof of the interest she had aroused.

The program was presented by a piano solo by Miss Thelma Garrett. The Harmonious Blacksmith. During the interval of the recital, Miss Alice Garrett sang, "The Rose in My Garden."

Mr. W. W. Wootton, of Nankana, sang, "The Heart of a Rose."

The National Anthem concluded the program.

Rev. J. N. Wilkinson occupied the chair in a very able manner.

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Wootton at the receipt of thanks.

ARDENODE

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Dawson and family are on a trip to Vancouver. We hope they are having a good time.

Mr. and Mrs. Jensen entertained about sixteen of their friends to dinner on Sunday last.

Mr. and Mrs. Gehard are spending the week-end in Calgary.

Mr. Harold Horrocks is going to attend Old School of Agriculture. We wish him the best of luck.

WEDDING

A very pretty wedding was solemnized in the United Church, Strathmore, on Wednesday, November 22nd, at 11 a.m., when Miss Stanley Long and Miss Annie Wagstaff were united in marriage.

The bride was given away by her father. The bridesmaids were Miss Mary Wagstaff, sister of the bride, and Miss Hazel Bray, while the groom was escorted by Mr. Stewart Lorenz.

The happy couple are leaving on this afternoon's train for the coast, where they intend to make their home.

DALEMEAD

The play "Blue-eyed Betty" given by the Dalemead High School was a great success, the proceeds amounting to about $107. Credit is given to the teacher, Miss Beattie for the hard work she has done to make it a success.

Supper was served after the play, and dancing finished the evening's entertainment.

A party was held at the Rudolph home last week, and everyone had a nice time. Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph will leave in a short time for their home at the coast.

Mr. Condon and son, Lester, left for their annual deer hunt.

A meeting of the Chautauqua organization was held on Monday night, Mayor Shrimpton presiding, and W. M. Wears read the minutes of the previous meeting.

The dates, December 5, 6, 7, and 8 suggested to the Chautauqua management was arranged through the kindness of the Oxtoks committee, exchanging with Strathmore.

Mrs. McKay, a Chautauqua advance representative was present and outlined the very entertaining program that Chautauqua is presenting this season.

The Windsor players will present "The Bubble" on the opening night, December 5th, which is an unusually bright comedy.

The second afternoon will open with the famous Jubilee Quartet, in which the old time plantation songs will be presented with their ownending and (ty) delineating the past joy feelings of the southern negro better than ever.

The Jubilee singers will also give the prelude on the second evening, to be followed by a South Sea, a practical play, in which he presents his famous character building, education, dramatic art, lecture "The Power and the Glory". He is an expert worker with the old-fashioned potter's wheel and will give an instructive demonstration of the art. This will be a most instructive feature, and particularly for young people, who are not conversant with pottery and pottery work.

The third afternoon the Faubel enter talents, who have made a real reputation throughout North America, will be presented, giving a most interesting and varied program, which is most diversified.

From the most interesting dramatic to the robust comedy, the program is characterized, given by Clarence Faubel and associated with him is Mrs. Faubel, a talented violinist, gifted pianist, and clever singer, who, together with Mrs. Marie Whitelake, in her specialty solo numbers.

This extraordinary program is followed by the famous lecture "How's Your Health?", by Mrs. Louise McIntyre, the distinguished health expert and author, who will show how health in life is to instruct people in the science of "how to keep well". This lecture alone is well worth the price of the whole Chautauqua course.

The Faubels furnish the complete entertainment for the evening of the third day, in a program made up that ranges from the sublime to the decidedly humorous.

The fourth night, December 8th, the closing performance "The Martin Brier Company" will present "Cappy Ricks", the popular play with its humorous appeal and humor.

This is a new outline of the program arranged by the Chautauqua committee, made up of the following local citizens: W. M. Wears, D. A. Perry, H. McGreger, D. Landie, M. A. Gill, Barker, & Craddock, T. M. Ward, J. J. S. Hughes, D. A. Perry, Mercer, J. S. H. Crowder, J. S. Dunn, N. B. Melvin, A. J. Watson, Mrs. J. M. De Witt.

Any surplus funds that may be realized will be used to pay off the balance of the Memorial Hall debt by local citizens, W. M. Wears, D. A. Perry, H. McGreger, D. Landie, M. A. Gill, Barker, & Craddock, T. M. Ward, J. J. S. Hughes, D. A. Perry, Mercer, J. S. H. Crowder, J. S. Dunn, N. B. Melvin, A. J. Watson, Mrs. J. M. De Witt.

The services were conducted by Rev. H. D. Marr. Beautiful floral tributes were given.

The remains were taken to Scottsburg, Ind., Mr. Hebron Cemetery, for interment.

A Dream that Stings "Bring Me a Rose"

FOREVER, as she stands holding a rose in her hand does not realize she is a very well-known little girl—all she looks for is to be that—just how much she touches a flower herself. The first book, based on a folio motif, is very realistic, with its triple bridge of words and facts. It seems much too heavy for school and would be too dense for children or a silk or satin dress. But what else could you expect from the pen of a girl who has such a simple and charming style? Made in high weight in the book with trimming bands of crepe de chine, velvet or satin to match, or a very light weight with a light or darker shade of the same material. It could withstand the general wear and make tasks more pleasing. A wide hair ribbon across the front is very correct. (Copyright, 1927, by H. H. H. H.)

SPORT NOTES

BILL BOYD, THE SPRINTER

TORONTO—Bill Boyd, who once held the World's record for the 150 yards, and was rated in his day as among the best of professional runners, is fighting a losing fight against death here. He was at his height in those days when fortunes were wagered on foot racing and when it was considered a major sport in Canada and the United States.

During the last few years of his career foot racing was a foul mess of treachery, everybody double-crossing the other fellow, races were bought and sold and bought back again, athletes bet on themselves, heaped their bets and then doubled their bets on opponents. Timers were bribed, trainers tampered with and promoters begged famous athletes with promises of fabulous purses, collected the proceeds and then faded with the receipts.

Boyd this week gave some inside information as to how these races were fixed and how double-cross attempts were made to double-cross the fixers, but claims he always tried to run honest races.

"They killed the game," Boyd said. "The dirty crooks killed the game. For, mind you, no sport can live once the thieves get hold of it. People will come once or twice to get burned, but the second time there'll be fewer than the first, and the third time there'll be fewer still. In the last time comes when nobody will go across the street to watch a thing they've lost all confidence in, and that's what happened to the racing game."

"I'd run honest races, mostly. There was many a time when I'd come to me with a proposition, and I'd turn 'em down. They threatened me, too many times. Once in New Mexico we were run for two hours before we could get a race started; but we got away at last, and I won; and that race was on the level. I had bet $250 on myself, and I won it."

"I'm not saying that I didn't run crooked races. You had to, once in a while, for the biggest men in the racing game were mixed up in some of the deals and if you didn't do what they said you might as well hang up your shoes. They had money in it for the big fellows. I have seen as much as $25,000 go on one race, and in those days $25,000 was a lot of money, a big day's money."

"We had a lot of trouble with timers, too. For one thing, we were not so accurate as they make them today; but the worst that the timers might be bought to make some ordinary runner look good. To build him up, so there'd be a lot of money bet on him in some future race, when the big boys would clean up by betting against him. It was all a dirty game, they killed a fine, clean athlete with their thievery."

One of the high spots in Bill Boyd's career was a race which he ran against time at Chicago, which was promoted by the late A. G. Spaulding, then manager of the old Chicago National League baseball team. He was to get so much money for running the 150 in 15 seconds, so much for 15 1/2, and so on. The better his time, the more money he stood to make. Spaulding was dubious of Boyd's 14 1/2 seconds. "Get your own officials," I told him. Boyd said: "Have your own timers and your own watches."

He was clocked by Spaulding's timers at 14 1/2 for that race, and cleaned up as a consequence. Some idea of the money which was floating around the running tracks when professional racing was in its prime may be gleaned from a few extracts from Boyd's record.

At Winnipeg, in 1902, he beat John Wilson in a 100 yard dash in 10 1/2 seconds for $200 a side. In the same year at Winnipeg he ran the 100 in 10 seconds flat, beating D. Hart for a bet of $250 a side. On Oct. 13, 1904, running under an assumed name, he beat M. K. Kitchman, at Saratoga, N.Y., turning in a performance of 9 3/4 for the hundred, and winning a bet of $1,000 a side. He repeated this at Niagara Falls against James Quinn of Elmford, another famous old timer, for $500 a side, and in 1887 he beat the best in America at Chicago at the 150 yards distance, finishing in 14 1/2 seconds.

HERB PENNOCK A WONDERFUL PITCHER

NEW YORK—A slender fellow with a frail physique has become one of the greatest world series pitchers of all time.

Herb Pennock built along the line of a reather, but possessing all the toughness and durability of a steel and concrete dugout in a battlefield, equaled the record of Jack Coombs, old Athletic and Brooklyn star, when he set the Pittsburgh Pirates down in the third game of this year's world series.

It was Pennock's fifth win in the big events and he has yet to suffer a defeat. Incidentally, he is the only pitcher to retire 21 men in a row in seven innings of a series game, and the only one on record with two three-games to his credit.

Previously Jack Coombs was the only pitcher to win five games in the big events without suffering a defeat. Pitching for the famous Athletics he won three games from the Cubs in 1916. The following year he drove his victims in an eleven-inning game.

With Brooklyn in 1916, Coombs won his fifth game, the only game the Dodgers were able to win from Boston in that five-game series. From that day and until Pennock's recent win over the Pirates, Coombs had a distinction of being the only pitcher to win five games in the big classes without tasting defeat.

Pennock's recent victory over the Pirates, Pennock set the Giants down twice in 1923, beating Hugh McQuinn and Jack Bentley 2 to 1 in his first game and 3 to 1 in his second. He followed up with a 6 to 4 count in the last game of that series.

He beat Sherdell of the Cardinals twice last year by scores of 2 to 1, allowing just three hits in the first game. The record was a 10-inning affair.

Great as his world series records are, Pennock's real worth has been shown during the fearful campaign when the big game of the American league was battling his back and he held out while the Yankees artillery roared to victory after victory.

Pennock came to the American league years and years ago. He was with the Atlanta Braves when they fell in the slaughter of 1914, but that wasn't Herbie's fault. He was just a rookie then.

Pennock came to the Yanks from Boston, and since his acquisition has been one of the greatest winners the New Yorks has ever had.

MINOR LEAGUE DIFFICULTIES

While the major baseball leagues are considering politics of their own and a number of the managers are weighing ways and means of getting into the pennant money class next year, the minor leagues are getting all "hot" over the question of farms. For some years the draft question has been a bone of contention, but the minors apparently have reached the conclusion the draft is a necessary evil and the only point at issue in this system is the amount of money the majors the conduct of minor league baseball. While it is not true that major league supported minor clubs always.

win the pennant, or are even near the top when the season ends, it happens often enough to give the other fellows ground for argument. On the other hand, the fellows not bound by a big league agreement are free to sell their stars where the biggest price is forthcoming and they have the benefit of the money thus accruing that does not come to the farm.

Yet, it is also argued that the growing number of farms controlled by the big leagues is tending to so completely clean up the supply of top-notch players of promise, due to the activities of the major scouts, that the supply of such talent for the clubs operating upon the home ownership plan is limited.

On the other hand, there are veteran leaders in the game who believe that major league affiliation is the only hope of the minor circuits, with salaries and travelling expenses where they are only strenuous efforts and an annual appeal for funds to supplement the box office receipts and sales of players maintain the club.

The fact of the matter is the whole question of minor league baseball is a mistle and it is on the minor leagues that the foundation of baseball rests. Without them there could be no new players developed for the majors, other than from the semi-pros and the colleges, and the number needed from the latter, though growing, is still a negligible quantity. Baseball in the future is not in such a flourishing condition either and there have been numerous threats of suppressing it in many educational institutions.

Local pride, no doubt, is the big factor in minor league baseball. When the town really believes the club belongs to it better support is afforded it and it is a matter of local pride to make up whatever deficiencies may exist at the end of the season. Some clubs are in a position to make a balance on the right side of the ledger by their sales of players. But all clubs do not possess managers capable of developing such remarkable material.

GLORIA SWANSON : JANS TO ENTER RACING GAME

LOS ANGELES, Cal.—Gloria Swanson, movie star, is to enter the racing game in the near future and her colors will be seen at Tijuana during the lengthy winter season. "Overcoat Jack" Akin is now endeavoring to secure suitable thoroughbreds for the Tijuana Derby and the Cofroth Handicap.

An attempt was made to purchase Lawley, the superb Sir Martin colt which is owned by the Viking Stable. Gloria was willing to pay $25,000 for Lawley, but Trainer Edward Trotter informed Akin that he would not take less than $30,000 for the youngster.

Since negotiations were opened, however, Lawley won at Latonia on Monday running a mile in 1:37 3/5, the best performance of a two-year-old this season. Trotter now figures that the value of Lawley has increased from $25,000 to $100,000 and doubtless would not sell for less than $27,500.

REPORTED DEAD; FINDS SWEETHEART IN SHANGHAI

SHANGHAI—Sergeant James Michels, United States marines, big, bronzed and hard-bodied, stroled into a novelty shop in the Nanjing road.

"Gimme a string of —" the portly man got no further.

A tremendously pretty girl threw herself into his arms.

It was his former sweetheart, Miss Millie Danley, whom he had gone into the Marine corps to forget when he failed to find her on his return from the French battlefields.

Back in 1917 Michels was an automobile mechanic in Alliance, O., engaged to marry Miss Danley, a beauty parlor expert.

Michels enlisted in the army. Six months later he was at Chateau Thierry. He was reported missing and then dead. His mother, Mrs. Ellen Michels, Kansas City, Mo., died of grief a week after hearing the report.

Michels turned up from a German prison camp after the war. He returned home to find his mother dead and his sweetheart gone. The father had died in 1908.

He joined the marines and went with their expeditionary force to protect Americans in Shanghai.

His fiancée, it developed, had married. Her husband died three years ago, and she went to China and opened up the novelty shop.

They are to be married when his enlistment expires—and it won't be long now, for his time is up in December.

I Saw Last Week

COUNCILLOR MINER making his Pessenden promise that he would reserve one season ticket for him for the skating rink. FRED J. DUNN getting down to active work with the Boy Scouts and Cubs. GEORGE QUINN asking Two Schulte to explain just what would please a good family man in skating privileges for the youngsters. George's intentions are good, but he lacks experience. Ted referred him to Hector McGregor for real expert direction. MARSHALL KIMPTON masquerading in a Derby hat and soon lost. Three oil kings and electricians certainly do like themselves. ALEX GRAY bemoaning the fact to Jim Moran that these are the "melancholy days," no fishing and no curling, nothing but work. JIM MORAN installing a fine new Pease furnace at the Masonic Hall, of which the popular plumber is exceedingly proud. It sure is a nice one, and should keep the square and compass boys very comfortable. MARSHALL KIMPTON protesting that Jim Weir's partner did not owe him a cent at the dance, but that that honor fell to his partner, and that he carried the spare parts that repaired the damage. FRED J. DUNN up early Thursday morning trying to make his breakfast. On his hatching up to date COUNCILLOR SCHULTE at the Council meeting, making resolutions that the Minister of Public Works be provided with a stenographer, that she be fair and good to look upon. Motion lost in the interest of his family. COUNCILLOR JAS. SAUNDERS suggesting that enlarged photos of all past deputy mayors be added to the art gallery, and Council for Miner raising the question why the hard working Councilors should be excluded. REV. J. N. WILKINSON casting loving glances at President Dillie's Curling arena, and wondering how he can spare the time to get in a few shots. FRED J. DUNN modifying the Minister of Public Works regarding a dangerous spot on Second Avenue. "TERTIN" GIBSON farewelling with the fair sex, and again with the boys at the station. TOM GLENNING practicing the latest song hit, "My Daisies," in which he is very good. JIM WEIR displaying a few samples of select Xmas novelties. Ask him to give you a demonstration of the latest in radio and "one moment, please."

THE OLD DAIRY COW

The farmer's best friend is the old dairy cow.
If she owes a debt she will pay it some how.

She grazes the roadside to eat out her life.
And works without wages the same as his wife.

Though Jersey or Holstein, or Short-horn her breed
Hard work is her habit and thrift is her creed.
And if, when she comes home at night to the barn,
You praise her or blame her she doesn't care a darn.

She always has something to add to your life.
She brings in the cream cheque, just cash them yourself.
Get out the old milk stool, sit down with a bump.
Grab hold of her handles and pumpy pump.

She helps with the living, and keeps us all fat,
The hired man, the baby, the pig and the cat.
Then set out the cream can and by heck,
The Creamery will send back a wonderful cheque.

All hail to the heifer, the steer, and the calf.
The curly faced bull, with his bangs full of chaff,
But when at your evening devotion you bow,
Give thanks for that treasure, the old dairy cow.

MISS MARY AKKERMAN

There is no "Doubt" or "Question" About It! Gatenby's Dept. Store

but it is the comments of many of our valued customers. One lady remarked to one of our clerks that she had seen such beautiful gifts in Strathmore before, or such a large variety at such reasonable prices. She remarked that she had looked round the City, and our prices were very much less. What was the reason? This is the reason: "We meet the representative of a large Import house who makes a show each July in our large sample rooms at The Palliser Hotel. In July everyone was expecting a 40 to 50 bushel crop of No. 1 Northern, and everyone expected that there would be tons of money floating around, and we bought very heavy, expecting a big demand. We all know that through Hail and Frost the crop is not what it was cracked up to be, and money is not as plentiful as we were expecting. Consequently we have got the stock—we had to take delivery—and the way to move it quickly is to sell cheaply. This we are doing, and the stock is moving. IF YOU WANT TO SAVE, LOOK THIS IMMENSE STOCK OVER. IF YOU HAVE MONEY TO BURN, TAKE IT TO THE CITY. The stock is too large to enumerate; they would want the whole edition of the Standard to give you a comprehensive description, but we give just a few articles below and extend an invitation to EVERYONE JUST TO COME AND SEE. THEN, IF YOU CAN DO BETTER AWAY, WE SHALL BE CONTENT. There is nothing more annoying for a storekeeper to hear than: "I did not know I could get such lovely toys and presents at such low prices, or I would not have gone to Calgary."

You can have Lovely Underthings and still be Warm!

Local Jottings :-

Miss Strong spent Saturday and Sunday in Calgary.

At the recent meeting of the Strathmore Social Board, the motion was passed that a set of the War Memorial Pictures, as offered by the Imperial Order Daughters of the Empire, be accepted. Arrangements will therefore be immediately made by the local chapter I.O.D.E. to have these pictures as soon as possible.

Miss Mary Ackerman has opened the restaurant in the Strathmore Hotel, which will be known as the Holland Restaurant. Miss Ackerman's many friends are wishing her success in her new venture.

Miss Watson spent the week end in Glenora.

Mrs. Gatenby spent a couple of days in Calgary last week.

You are assured of a good time at the I.O.D.E. card party Friday night in the Memorial Hall.

Mr. and Mrs. John Bailey, of Coal Valley, Illinois, are the guests of Mrs. Dewitt for a few days, enroute to California. Mr. and Mrs. Bailey and Mrs. Dewitt were neighbors in Illinois for many years.

The tea held by the Ladies Golf Club last Saturday, was a gratifying success. Many glad to drop in out of the cold and be refreshed by such good coffee and delicious viands.

Mr. D. A. Perry was a Calgary visitor Sunday.

Mrs. J. N. Wilkinson entertained Miss Siegel at her home during her stay in town.

Mrs. Gilbert Patrick left last Friday for Vancouver, where she will visit with her sister for two or three weeks.

A meeting of the Sunrise Junior U.F.A. was held at the home of Mrs. Harold Riddell on November 16th.

The course in basketry put on last week by the W. I. of Strathmore, was very successful. In the Spring the W. I. expect to cooperate with the U.F.W.A. in a similar course, when the time of three days will be extended to five.

The Hare Tunes Dance, under the auspices of the Canadian Legion, will be held in the Memorial Hall on Tuesday, December 2nd. Prices are being awarded for the best hard times costumes.

The Nightingale Dance and Bazaar will be held on Friday night, November 25th. Don't worry about the cold weather, but remember that the ladies of the Women's Institute are going to serve the supper. Oh, boy.

The members of the I.O.D.E. are holding a card party in the Memorial Hall on Friday night.

The U.F.A. Convention will be held at Calgary January 17th to 20th.

Mayor Shrimpton was in Calgary on Tuesday.

L. Beasley, who has resided in Seattle and California, is back in this district and much prefers the Alberta climate to that of the Pacific coast.

I.O.D.E. CARD PARTY

Will Be Held in the Memorial Hall, Strathmore

FRIDAY EVENING, NOVEMBER 25, 1927
— Tickets 50c —

On November 17th a pleasant surprise was given at the home of Mrs. Wagner in honor of her eldest daughter, Annie, who received some lovely presents, including a beautiful carving set from the Strathmore staff. After a very enjoyable evening a buffet supper was served by the hostess.

The Faubel, who are with the Chautauqua, which appears in the Memorial Hall on December 7, are unusually clever and versatile. This is the first time for years that Chautauqua has appeared in Strathmore. Get behind the guarantees and put it over big.

Mrs. F. F. Schultz intends to visit her brother, Mr. Fred A. Petersen, of San Diego, California.

The Big Chautauqua, December 5, 6, 7, and 8, has a most interesting and varied program, and this year the quality is even better than usual. Small towns seldom have the opportunity to see plays presented by such clever entertainers.

T. M. Weems was handling cheques for the Big Chautauqua tickets until D. M. Laidlaw was injured.

Mayor Shrimpton has been making up the Scotch and near Scotch into one homogenous organization all intent upon making the big Chautauqua a success on December 5, 6, 7, and 8.

Mr. Donald MacGregor, who spent last winter with his brothers in Washington and California, and after spending the summer with his sister, Mrs. Frank Skene, of Cheate, Alberta, left on Monday for his home in Gray County, Ontario.

The Rt. Rev. the Lord Bishop of Calgary, hopes to hold a service of the Communion in the Memorial Hall at 11 a.m. Sunday, December 11th, if the trails are passable on that day.

PLANT SHELTER BELTS

The planting of shelter-belts around farms on the Canadian prairies has earned appreciable results from the agricultural standpoint. The water-conserving power of the soil has been increased; better crops have resulted; and the protection from extremes of temperature and wind movement has enabled the introduction of the harder fruits in many localities. Of particular importance is the additional moisture secured through the formation of snowdrifts which melt gradually, assuring approaches, providing water after adjoining open areas have largely dried up.

ROCKYFORD

Miss Marie English, of Carbon, has accepted a position in the Rockyford post office and telephone exchange.

Mr. Ellard, Mr. Kattenbach, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Langender drove to Calgary Thursday, returning Friday evening.

Rockyford is to have the honor of the presence of Sir Herbert Ames, K.T., I.L.D., delegate to the Dominion of Canada to the Assembly of the League of Nations, at the Canadian Club luncheon, to be held on Saturday, November 26th. Rockyford and vicinity are fortunate in being able to procure such distinguished visitors as is being brought here monthly by the Canadian Club.

The shower held by the Rockyford United Church Ladies' Aid was very successful. The program took the form of a mock wedding. Many very pretty and useful gifts were presented to the bride for the Ladies Aid. Mrs. Kattenbach delighted all present with her solo.

The regular meeting of the young people's society of the Rockyford United Church, was held in the church parlour Thursday evening, November 17th. A very interesting mission program was collected by Mr. McFarland. Arrangements have been made for Prof. Ottewill, of the University Extension Department, to give the motion picture of "Silas Marner" on Thursday December 1st. The film will be shown in the Rockyford United Church. A good evening's entertainment is in store for you, so keep the date in mind.

The Ladies Aid, of the Rockyford United Church are holding their annual bazaar and chicken supper in the town hall on Tuesday, December 6th, 1927, as an added feature there will be a carnival and play. The entertainment will commence at 8:30 p.m. with a program and play by local talent. During the evening there will be the crowning of the Carnival Queen. The candidates and their standing for the positions are: Miss Gordy, 507 votes; Mabel Peters, 500 votes; Hilda Koppel, 500 votes; Marion Schaller, 500 votes. The candidates are busy now selling tickets for this event. Each ticket sold nets them a certain number of votes. These young ladies are working hard to make a good standing, and are asking the public to support their efforts and make this event a success. Information and tickets may be obtained from Mr. Ivo Reidy, Mr. Black, managers; or Mrs. Carpenter, committee. Another attraction in connection with the bazaar is the magazine booth. The Ladies Aid has secured the agency for a number of the most popular magazines, and would like the public to subscribe through them. Plan to give magazines for Christmas gifts this year. The Ladies Aid have some very attractive offers.

ROSEBUD

Mr. H. Jones motored to Calgary last week, returning by train, as he was obliged to leave his car in the city.

On Wednesday evening Mrs. W. Cross was hostess to the Ladies Bridge Club, three tables playing first honours going to Mrs. L. Miles, a dainty china cup and saucer; consolation, two pretty handkerchiefs, was won by Mrs. O. Christenson. A happy time was spent over the tea-cups, bringing an enjoyable evening to a close.

Keep in mind the dance to be given Friday evening in the Rosebud Hall, under the auspices of the Women's Catholic League. "Melody Boys Orchestra" and chicken supper will be served at midnight.

Thursday afternoon the Ladies Aid of the United Church met for their regular meeting at the home of Mrs. H. Wilson, eleven members and two visitors being present. The general business and financial report from the bazaar occupied the afternoon, after which which delicious refreshments were served by the hostess.

Mrs. L. Jones and babe, who have been visiting relatives here for the past two weeks, returned to Aldersyde on Saturday evening.

Mr. H. Hyman was a visitor to the city on Saturday.

Mr. George Ranstorp spent Sunday at Rockyford.

CARSELAND

Don't forget the "Country" (Old Times) Ball at the Athabasca Temperance Hall at the Athabasca, December 6th. Good music, value at $25.00 each given away as prizes for the best dressed old timers continues.

The Carseland Ladies Aid which to thank all those who so kindly helped make their bazaar a success.

Annual meeting of the Carseland Ladies Aid will be held in the church on Thursday, December 15th. A full attendance will be greatly appreciated.

Mr. and Mrs. James Nelson, Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Nelson and families left Sunday morning to spend the balance of the winter at Long Beach, California.

Mossleigh School, under the management of Miss Doris Ford, put on a dance and supper at the Community Hall last Friday evening, the proceeds go towards a piano for the school.

The skating rink meeting was held during the week and the following committee was appointed: R. S. Porter, president; C. Cole, secretary; treasurer, W. Hill, T. C. Stinson, J. Clyde, J. Powell, committee. The rink will be built on the hall grounds.

The P. H. C. Cab propose putting on a dance about December 2nd.

The last of the vacant houses to rent have been taken over by Messrs. Clyde and W. Mackay.

A young bachelor farmer of the vicinity has got the moonpenny on two of the lady school teachers. At present he is undecided which of the two will be the choice. He ho? Another poor fellow gone wrong.

Councillor Nelson has given the information out that he has the sum of one hundred dollars, with the possibility of further donations from the municipality so be used on the graveling of the street in Carseland. Move power to you, Ed.

The Rt. Rev. the Lord Bishop of Calgary, hopes to take Evening and Preach at Carseland United Church at 4 p.m. Sunday, December 4th, at 4 p.m. after the usual United Church service, by courtesy of the congregation of the Carseland United.

Mr. Gill was a passenger to Calgary on Saturday evening's train.

Mrs. Harold Greenman was a visitor in the city last week.

We forgot to report the arrival of a young son at the home of Mr. and Mrs. N. Zlatoff last week.

Mr. and Mrs. O. Engstrom have taken up residence at Mr. H. Thorne's.

LANGDON

A quiet wedding took place on Monday, November 14, at Knox Church, when Betty Lee, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Leonard of Truro, became the bride of Mr. John McIntyre of Swallow, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. McIntyre, of Langdon. The Rev. Geo. Shearer performed the ceremony.

Group number eleven of the Women's Institute, with Mrs. Wm. Winter as chairman, held a successful "dinner-party" November 17th in the W.I. room. Honors were carried away by Mrs. R. Copeland and Wm. Winter, while Mrs. H. Dain and T. Copeland had to be content with the consolation prizes.

Miss Florence Myers was the guest of honor at a "mistletoe" dinner held in the W. I. Rooms Saturday afternoon. Miss Myers was the recipient of many lovely gifts, and many good wishes. Refreshments were served, and a delightful time enjoyed, by all present.

Miss Margorie Shaw, of Pincher Creek, came on Thursday, and will be the new telephone operator when Miss Myers leaves.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cough of Leduc, Sask., were visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. Dain from Friday to Monday. They are on their way to California.

WHY NOT A TRUST COMPANY?

Recent news dispatches from the city where the Tammany is famous convey information of the death of a son of one of the founders of that notable institution, friendless, penniless, alone in Bellevue Hospital. Bequeathed the quarter of a million dollars in cash only a few years ago, after he had been provided with a good education, this scion of a man of outstanding organizing ability had lost everything, life included, in being a "good fellow".

One of the leading editorialists south of the international boundary epitomizes the case with: "To leave your son money, without having taught him how to use it, is to make misery your executor." Canadian Financier, October 5th, 1927.

HEARD ON THE STREET

Bill Tierney says the two best bridge players in Armory were sisters named "Het" and "Hat", and they each had babies at home that sucked their thumbs.

"I see by the papers that the Kaiser claims he did what he thought was best for the German people," said Pat. "The Hellyd," says Jim Gunn.

The two faces were close together in the Calgary station, the man's grin, tense; the other face was small and white, with two slender hands pressed tightly against it. It was those frail hands that riveted the man's horrified gaze: "My God!" he said, still staring; and in his voice was hopeless stark tragedy. For that face was the face of his wife, and those little hands told him that he had missed No. 1 train by about three minutes.

She: "How is like my dress, it's a sample!"
Gene (sympathetically): "You don't get much for nothing these days, do you?"

Bill Tierney was telling about an Armory wedding, when one of the workmen formed an archway of picks at the wedding. Bill says he was rather nervous, fearing a whistle would sound at a critical moment.

Eddie Crellin seems to make quite a hit with the young ladies at Nakama. One of them was passing the elevator a few days ago when he threw a kiss at her, but through force of habit he put a curve on it and it missed her.

Girl to Boy Friend in Calgary Restaurant: "How about a chicken salad?"
Boy: "No, no, I don't eat pork."

It happened on a West bound stage, out in the western country. The coach had rounded a dangerous curve and several passengers were discussing stage robberies.

"I was on a coach several years ago, and we were held up on this very spot," remarked a guy little flapper. "I saved my vanity case by sitting on it."

"Umph!" snorted the hard-boiled traveling man, who had been on the same trip. "I wish my wife had been along. We could have saved our suitcase!"

A customer walked into Hock's Red's drug store. "Gimme a bottle of liniment and a bottle of furniture polish."
"What in the world are you going to do with that combination?" the H. H. druggist enquired.

"Well, my neighbor has rheumatism in his legs, and one of them is wood."

A husband said to his wife at breakfast: "I'd like to use the car today," says he.

"Why, I'm going to use it myself," she says.

"Criminally!" says he. "I buy all the gas, pay for all the repairs and wash the darned thing," he says, "and I don't think I've drove it more than twice in the last month," says he. "An they call you'n the fair sex," he says.

"Oh, darling," he murmured, "I love you so. Please say you'll be mine. I'm not rich like R. B. Bennett, and I haven't a car, or a fine mansion, or a well-stocked cellar like Bobby Hamby; but darling, I love you better than life itself. I cannot live without you."

Two soft, snow-white arms stole around his neck and two ruby lips whispered in his ear: "And I love you too, darling; but where is this man Hamby?"

Ura Peck, Harold Smith's new Calgary fiancée, latched up with Grandma Podnosne yesterday as she was coming from the post office as she were looking kind of worried, so Grandma says: "Anything the matter?" Ura says she.

"Why Grandma! Ura says: "Miss Ann! You just told me that you thought my dresses were entirely too short," says she.

"Yes, she would," Grandma says, "I've altered noticed that she subjects the strongest to short skirts," she says, "but the worst looking legs," says she.

Jim Moran remarks that life has its little ironies: In the good old Summer when you can collect a fat fish of fishwives without digging up a whole town block the water is too muddy for fishing. Can you beat it?

Judge: "How many times have you been in a court of justice?"
Defendant: "Not once, but I have been before you several times."

Customer: "I've brought that last pair of trousers to be resewed. You know I sat a lot."

"Yes," replied Bill Tierney the tailor, "and perhaps you've brought the bill to be resewed, too. You know I've stood a lot, and it costs real money to buy coal to heat the Tierney Block. No money, no seat."

Gushing Hostess: "Charming little piece you have just played. Such wild abandon. I simply loved it. Was it your own composition?"
Ben Plemer: "No. I was just putting on a new string."

Hector (seeing twins for the first time): "Mummy, why has Mrs. Blank's baby got a head at both ends?"

The critic wrote: "The play ended happily." What a whale of a difference a little comma makes.

Bill Wilkinson: "Dey calls a guy that steals when he don't have ter keep 'em alive."

Percy Parish: "I wonder what kind of a maniac is a fellow who thinks when he don't have to?"

"Look pleasant, please," said the photographer to his (more or less) fair sitter.

Click! "It's all over, ma'am. You may resume your natural expression."

Bobby Hamby: "Pardon me, has your dress slipped off, or am I seeing things?"
She: "Both."

Herb Harner: "Give me a sentence with the word Toboggan in it."
Edwin: "A lady went to a toboggan sale."

My William was exasperated with the almost continuous squalling of his baby brother.

"I bet I know why he came from heaven," Billy mused. "They put him out."

"I was so rattled when the doctor examined me today that I guess he saw my constipation," said the middle wife.

"Betty take no along the next time," growled the hubby.

Harry Miner thinks that married men are much more inventive than single men. "They have to be," is the kind reply made by Percy Parish.

Men differ according to their nationality, and that is why universal brotherhood is a long way off.

Eight men were once wrecked on a desert island. A year later a ship picked them up. The skipper of the ship noted in his log that:

The two Scotchmen had founded a Caledonian Society.

The two Irishmen had fought twice a day during the whole year.

The two Englishmen hadn't spoken because they'd never been introduced.

The two Americans had opened up a real estate agency in a palm-leaf hut, with a Rotary Club, a Booster's League, and a hooch-making plant in the cellar.

Mrs. Blank (interviewing prospective cooks): "And another thing, Mr. Blank and myself are strict vegetarians."

Prospective Cook: "That's all right with me, madam. I've attended that church, too."

A farm hand had worked for John C. Davis every day in the week from dawn until dark, finished the chores by lantern light went to John at the end of the first week and said: "Mr. Davis, I'm going to quit. You promised me a steady job of work."

John was astounded. "Goodness alive, haven't you got one?"

"No," said the hired man. "There are three or four hours every night that I haven't anything to do. All I do is fool away my time sleeping. I'm going where I can get a steady job, so he went upstairs and picked his grip, partly with his own and partly with John's, and if Constable Tate had had the say, he would have had a steady job."

The night was clear and frosty. The two tramps, sat in at Mickey Tompkins' Hotel. Suddenly a gust of wind blew open the door.

"Old pard," remarked the other tramp, "them tar flakes is beginning to fall."

There was a dead silence, broken only by the noise of drums in a nearby harness shop. Then the other tramp spoke. "What?" he muttered, "how 'd they be comin' back?"

Vincent: "Dad, how do they catch lunatics?"
Dad: "With face powder, beautiful dresses, and pretty smiles, my son."

Game Inspector: "Here, what are you doing? Don't you know you're not allowed to take fish out of this water?"

Jim Moran (three hours without a catch): "I'm not taking them out; I'm feeding them!"

Pete Toller: "I'm wireless wonderful! Think of hearin' the salmon free the kirk in yer ain name an' nase collection too worry about!"

Jack Taylor: "Ay, but ye ken ye have to pay a licence to the Government afore ye can listen in."

Pete Toller: "Ach! I knew there was a catch in it!"

REMARKABLE GROWTH OF ELEVATORS IN WESTERN CANADA

The Financial Post, in referring to the development in the grain trade of the grain trade of Canada is demonstrating its faith in the future of Canadian wheat. By investing between $10,000,000 and $15,000,000 in elevators during 1926 and 1927. At least 100 country elevators are being built on the prairies at an average cost of between $10,000 and $12,000. Probably as much money additionally will be spent on new terminal storage elevators. The wheat pool is spending some of the money, but the bulk of it is being put up by private interests.

Apart from indicating that the private grain interests of Canada do not fear extinction from wheat pool activities, the investment indicates the faith of the men immediately in the business in the future of wheat growing in Canada.

The growth in Western Canada's wheat growing is not readily apparent when figures of production from year to year are compared. This is because the yields per acre vary widely under different growing conditions. But a comparison of our wheat position today with our status in wheat 17 years ago gives some indication of the possibilities for expansion in production in the future.

In 1900 there were 500 country grain elevators in Western Canada. Today there are 4,500 and there will be over 5,000 by the end of next year. Canada had 2,000,000 acres under cultivation in 1900. This year there were 22,500,000 acres sown to wheat. The wheat crop was 45,000,000 bushels. This year crop is 425,000,000 bushels. The saturation point in production is yet after off. There are 170,000,000 acres of good arable land in the three prairie provinces and of this, 40,000,000 acres has been sown to wheat or other field crops. A production of two billion bushels of wheat in one year is a possibility.

In Western Canada although not a probability in the life of any adult now living. But who will deny that the next generation will be able to produce a billion bushels of wheat a year?

The grain trade knows what it is doing when it invests money in more grain marketing machinery.

CALGARY UNIQUE IN SUPPLYING OPPOSITION LEADERS

Calgary has the unique distinction of being the only city in Canada possessing an almost complete list of Opposition leaders. Hon. R. B. Bennett heads them through his recent selection as Conservative leader in the Dominion. Joseph T. Shaw, M.L.A. is Liberal leader in Alberta, while A. A. McMillan represents the same party for the Alberta Conservatives. Fred White is Labor leader in Alberta. It is, therefore, second in command of the Labor contingent in the House of Commons. There are all first-class men too. If Calgary is only political, it may some day away in distant future, find itself with a Prime Minister on its hands. —Vogelville Observer.

FEDERAL GOVERNMENT SHOULD PROTECT ALBERTA TOWNS

Premier J. E. Brownlee made a stirring appeal at the Ottawa conference that the subsidies of the Province should be larger owing to the increased demand being made in respect to highways, health, education, etc.; all of which helped to increase the revenue of the Dominion Government.

The argument, in all fairness, is undisputed, and could be supported very enthusiastically if the Alberta Provincial Government would show the same spirit in the matter of road building through the Towns of the Province.

The Government seems to be committed, unfortunately, to a policy of hand-capping the Towns by their parsimonious plan of stopping the expenditure of a single dollar within the limits of any town in Alberta, at the same time commandeering almost every possible source of revenue from the same source.

Premier Brownlee, in asking for increased grants from the Dominion is actually adding to the taxation of the towns, and will if the present plan of roadbuilding is continued, take this money and expend it beyond the limits of the towns from which this increased revenue has been raised.

The people of Strathmore would contribute a share of the additional support to the Dominion Government, either directly or indirectly, and then stand to and see it expended in Peace River or the Crown Post Pass, while the additional cost of up keep of the highway through the town would also have to be paid by the local taxpayers.

The taxpayers of every town in Alberta should at once get busy and impress upon their representative, the uniformity of policy should be made, go further and bring to the attention of Mr. E. J. Garland, M.P., and other Federal representatives, and request that not a single extra dollar of Dominion funds should be allocated to Alberta until these unfair conditions have been remedied.

John C. Buckley, M.L.A., should be the first man on the job to impress upon the Department of Public Works a change of policy should be made. He may be working along these lines, doing a silent hunt, but as far as may be ascertained, his efforts, if any, have been without avail.

THE MAGNIFICENT BEAUTY OF A WINTER LANDSCAPE

A magnificent picture has been set in and around Strathmore during the past few days by the artistic frost, snow, moisture and sunshine. Turn wherever you will, by night or day, and you will be struck by the beauty of the winter landscape.

The tall trees, with every little twig, branch limb and trunk encased in a garb of fleecy and sparkling whiteness, and the earth stretched far as the eye can see, that so long since was brown and bare, now wears a mantle of snowy whiteness, that in the sunshine sparkles and scintillates like myriads of diamonds. So stop the trees.

The wires overhead, both telephone and electric, with their frost encasement, stretch away like an aerial fairy road leading to the "Never-Never Land".

What a glorious spectacle it is, and how it rejoices and inspires the soul of man.

THE CHAUTAUGA SPONSORED BY ENTERPRISING CITIZENS

The meeting of the citizens who met together to sponsor the Chautauqua for December 5th, 6th, 7th and 8th, deserve special thanks in providing such a clean entertainment for the people, just at the close of the busy harvest season and in demonstrating the right community spirit first in getting together to consider the proposition, and secondly in getting behind the organization financially.

This is but one of the many demonstrations of the spirit of working together that is really building up Strathmore.

The Chautauqua representative, Mrs. McKay, who was present at the meeting, was delighted with the arrangements that had been perfected by Mayor Shrimpton, Secretary Wears, and the Committee, and promised that

"MIRACLE" WHEAT AGAIN

Experimental Farm Note

There has appeared recently in a number of leading agricultural papers an article entitled "King Tut's Wheat Grown in the West." The article refers to certain results obtained by a Soldier Settler living near Edmonton, Alta., and gives the impression that the wheat in question was discovered in 1922 in the tomb of King Tutankhamen. As a matter of fact the records show that this wheat was known as far back as 1840 when one of our countrymen offered heads at 45 cents.

The above variety belongs to the Poimard subspecies of wheat being somewhat intermediate between the common and durum wheats. It has numerous alleles, the most common of which are Egyptian, Khazari, May, headed, Miracle, Mummy, Seven headed and Alaska. It has always been easy to interest people in this wheat owing to its branched head. If an unbranched head will yield so much surely a branched head will yield much more. While head for head this may be true, yet experiments have shown that it holds good acre for acre. This wheat was probably introduced into North America from Europe or Egypt in Colonial days. It was received by the Philadelphia Society for Promoting Agriculture in 1807, since which time it has appeared repeatedly under one name or another.

In 1908 the United States Department of Agriculture began an extensive investigation of this wheat, which investigation continued for several years. In the meantime it has been tried by farmers all over the United States but it is not now grown anywhere as a commercial crop. The fact that it has never become established in spite of the remarkable advertising it has received is a good indication of its inferiority. Promoters, however, regret it periodically and, owing to its striking and unusual appearance, manage to sell it to the unsuspecting farmer at exorbitant prices.

The essential facts concerning Alaska wheat have been summed up very nicely in a bulletin published by the United States Department of Agriculture. Bulletin No. 357, 1916, p. 27, at the conclusion of extensive tests conducted at many points in the U.S., as follows:

(1) That it has been used in the country very often as a means of deceiving people and very seldom as a farm crop.

(2) That it has failed to produce even fair yields when tried in many parts of the country, and has never been known to produce extraordinary yields;

(3) That it is not a good milling wheat;

Chautauqua would do their part in providing a real up-to-date program that would delight everyone.

The dates arranged are December 5th, 6th, 7th and 8th. Reserve these as every entertainment will be worth while.

(4) That the branched head is not a sign of superior yielding power.

PROVINCIAL APATHY DEFERS ACTION ON RURAL CREDITS ACT

OTTAWA—Hon. J. A. Robb, minister of finance, will not organize the Rural Credits Board, as provided for in the Rural Credits Act passed last session, until at least one province has indicated a desire to have the scheme put into operation.

This was the information made public at the finance department. The Rural Credits Act states that the scheme shall only become effective in any province after that province has enacted enabling legislation. This provision was inserted in the act in order to remove doubts as to the jurisdiction of the Federal Parliament to carry out a credit scheme.

Under the provisions of the act the scheme will be self sustaining and there is no reason to believe that interest rates will be reduced below the level now obtaining in Western Canada.

For this reason there has been no demand as yet from any of the provinces for the introduction of the proposed credit system. Unofficially, the department of finance has been informed that Alberta intends to come into the act, but there has not been even a spark of interest since the terms of the act were made known.

At any rate, none of the provincial legislatures will meet until 1928, so that, at the earliest, the government will not begin itself in the matter until next March or April.

SINGLE BRITISH TARIFF SOUGHT BY SIR A. MOND

LONDON—Give me the British Empire as my territory and I will then produce more than the United States ever dreamed of," declared Sir Alfred Mond, British Industrial magnate, addressing the Empire Industries Association here.

His scheme is to give all the units of the British Empire a single tariff, thereby facilitating freer trade among them, and then start mass production. "Think," he says, "of the grouping achieved by the Empire, a country functioning as one economic unit with the free exchange of goods from New York to San Francisco, with one currency, one exchange, one standard of weights and measures, one language, give me the same scope and markets, the Empire will be a single ring fence within which British industry would be the manufacturing end, the largest manufacturing end of the British Empire, then we have got a chance of equality."

"We are no less enterprising or less capable in organization or less intelligent than any other nation in the world, but at present we are not dealing with equal conditions."

GIRL SAVED BY ERIE R.R.
FOR ONE FARE, 92 CENTS
NEW YORK—Miss Cora Campbell, of Montreal, N. J., was made defendant in a suit brought in the Bergen County Court at Hackensack by the Erie Railroad Company to collect 92 cents, representing a single fare between Montreal and Jersey City, in December, 1925. Miss Campbell boarded a New Jersey and New York Railroad train for Jersey City.

Miss Campbell found she had forgotten her handbag which contained her vanity case and purse. So gave her name to the conductor and promised to send the money to the company.

It is alleged she has continued to forget, so Robert & Minard, lawyers, of New York, instituted the suit, for the Interstate Commerce Law compels payment for all rides and the Erie is subject to a fine of $1,000 if the fare is not paid. It cost the lawyer's clerk $1 in bringing the papers from Newark yesterday.

A GREAT FAVOURITE
People often wonder how it is that almost in every home they visit in any part of the Dominion they will find The Family Herald and Weekly Star of Montreal in the favourite paper of the household. But when one thinks of the make-up of that great publication at the extremely low price of one dollar a year, it becomes to be a wonder. The Family Herald and Weekly Star is undoubtedly Canada's favourite, and Canadians are justly proud of it. It is a wonderful combination — newspaper, agricultural journal, and family magazine — all three in one, at a cost of two cents per week. Our readers can make no mistake by giving it a trial.
